

Dainty woman in a tough male domain!

With drillings she had lots of experience. She had trained to be a dentists assistant. For about 10 years now, it is rocks, soil and mountains.

Martina Grimus 43 took over the family business in Rohr im Gebirge in Lower Austria. As a fully licensed explosive - specialist, she has made herself a name in a male dominated business. You have to be a tough cookie to survive. Her element is building forestroads, dykes, etc. By now she has six male employees.
